Welcome to our 2024 Holiday Brochure

Finding the right balance between old favourites and new holidays is not easy. I think we have it about right with some really exciting new holidays. We have improved our existing holidays and you will notice that we are including more and more in the price, making our holidays even better value for money. All in all, I think this brochure really does have a holiday for everyone.

Here at Maxfields we have always had a strong affiliation with Scotland and have always shared many fantastic holidays here and created so many memories. Nothing can prepare you for seeing the stunning scenery in person, and not to mention the warmth and hospitality of the Scottish people. We hope you enjoy this years selection of carefully crafted breaks in Scotland (see pages 26-32), they have been designed to ensure you get the best out of each region.

Established in 1926 we are an independent family company providing coach holidays, private hire and day excursions. The company is still in the hands of the family who have run the business for over ninety years.

We do believe we have a team of drivers who are second to none and will do all in their powers to make each tour interesting and a great success.

We don't think in terms of groups, our clients are individuals who travel together for the benefits of group travel without the pitfalls. We provide the best holidays we can, and you bring yourselves, time after time, creating a warm and friendly atmosphere, which makes joining one of our holidays a pleasure. Together we make a great team.

Finally I would like to say a big thank you to all our clients who help to give us the confidence to introduce these new tours. And hope that through next year you find both our new and old destinations are as always giving an enjoyable, good value for money holiday.

Everyone here at Maxfields – drivers, couriers and booking staff hope you all have a wonderful holiday in 2024.
